This is a statutory supplement specially designed by law students for use by law students taking an Article 9 course. And with Article 9 Student Guide as the statutory supplement for your Article 9 course, your students will use Article 9 more because they will get more out of using Article 9. Article 9 Student Guide identifies the sections that law school courses emphasize and makes those sections more accessible for your students by adding - references to the sections that define key terms in that section; - brief descriptions of other sections that need to be read together with that section; and - "student comments" clarifying for law students what the Official Comments make clear only to commercial law mavens.
