Outsourcing Sovereignty: Why Privatization of Government Functions Threatens Democracy and What We Can Do about It Paul R. Verkuil

Reliance on the private military industry and the privatization of public functions has left our government less able to govern effectively. When decisions that should have been taken by government officials are delegated (wholly or in part) to private contractors without appropriate oversight, the public interest is jeopardized. Books on private military have described the problem well, but they have not offered prescriptions or solutions this book does.
