Small town Minnesota plays a leading role in Minnesota Memories, a new collection of twenty-seven remembrances written and edited by former Albert Lea resident Joan Claire Graham and Owatonna native Kathy Megyeri.

With tones ranging from melancholy to hilarious, these Minnesota Memories convey an impression of what it is to be grounded in the Midwestern culture of the mid twentieth century. Mature Minnesotans will relate to stories about family secrets, Mom's good Bavarian china, childhood games, local radio shows, country school, or the Owatonna motel entrepreneurs who were the vanguard of the travel industry boom after World War II.

These true stories invite the reader to empathize. Their richly detailed and good humored narrative evokes similar memories in the minds of readers. Whether as an addition to a collection, a gift, a historical reference, a conversation piece, or merely as a completely enjoyable reading experience, Minnesota Memories is a great choice.
